

Martin Scorsese's Who's That Knocking at My Door

Harvey Keitel, Zina Bethune

Hailed by Roger Ebert (Chicago Sun-Times) on its original release as 'a great moment in American movies', Martin Scorsese's debut feature film introduces many of the themes and techniques that he would later revisit in his classics Mean Streets, Taxi Driver and GoodFellas.

Following the two month Martin Scorsese season at BFI Southbank, Who's That Knocking at My Door will be released on DVD on 27 March 2017, alongside Scorsese's fourth film, Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore (1974).

This powerful drama, shot in gritty black and white on the streets of the Italian-American communities where Scorsese grew up, stars Harvey Keitel as J.R., a young New Yorker who falls in love with an independent and free-spirited college graduate (Zina Bethune). However, he finds his values shaken when she reveals a secret about her past.
